Welcome to our inaugural River Dee Heroes dinner. We hope you will have a wonderful evening while providing a big boost for a great cause.

We are looking for your help to deliver ambitious projects to help our struggling salmon and other wildlife. You will be supporting urgent action as well as longer-term measures to save our natural heritage. You will be serving your community and future generations.

This event recognises the high-profile figures who are coming to the aid of our river in its time of need, and our many other friends who share our determination to make a difference. You are all heroes!

OUR STAR AUCTION LOT

A CASK OF WHISKY
This 200 litre Virgin American Oak barrel was filled on the 12th of June 2020 at 63% Abv. The spirit is part of the Burnobennie experimental range and is cask number 006. Now 3 years old and officially a Single Malt Scotch whisky. Burnobennie is the first new whisky distillery on Deeside in over 100 years, using a combination of traditional values with new aged thinking this is the spirit Charlie Maclean has raved about at such length and a reason he is with us tonight. Tonight, with thanks to Mike Bain at Burnobennie distillery we have this Cask as our premier auction lot and a chance for you to buy a piece of Royal Deeside distilling history.

PETER HOWSON - WORLD IS ON FIRE SERIES
Not only distilling their own liquid, Burnobennie also hand fills bottles from extremely rare, old, and collectable casks. Tonight, we have both bottle number 1's from Edition 1 & 2 of The Macallan the Earth is on Fire with art on the bottles from the renowned artist Peter Howson. This whisky is from the most famous of Speyside distilleries and is a must for any private collection - The Macallan at this age is a unicorn!

This special collection was commissioned to raise funds for the Scotland's Rivers campaign for the River Dee Trust.

22YO WHISKY FROM THE FETTERCAIRN DISTILLERY
Matured for 22 years in first fill American ex-bourbon casks, this single malt showcases the signature tropical character derived from the Fettercairn copper cooling ring distillation process unique to Fettercairn distillery and honours their approach.

CHARITY RAFFLE

ABOUT THE RIVER DEE

The River Dee Trust is a Scottish conservation charity focused on restoring the UK's highest river.

Dee catchment over 2000 km²

The river flows 88 miles through stunning landscapes from the source high up in the Cairngorms, right down through Royal Deeside to join the North Sea at the Port of Aberdeen.

We are tasked with delivering a very ambitious programme of nature restoration and conservation and we need your help to do it.

THE RESPONSE

The River Dee Trust has already delivered award-winning nature restoration projects and we have huge ambition to deliver much more in response to this major threat to this beautiful part of Scotland and potential extinction of key species.

We will do this by planting more than One Million Trees to provide cooling shade and nutrients back into the river, using natural flood management techniques to mitigate flood damage and drought impacts, and removing invasive non-native species, all to protect against biodiversity loss.

THE AIMS

1 million native trees planted

2% reduction in water temperature

50% increase in juvenile Atlantic salmon

40% increase in habitat diversity

THE OPPORTUNITY

We are offering companies and individuals who share our passion for conservation and protecting biodiversity an exciting opportunity in something far more valuable than carbon credits:

Provide funding and become a River Dee Guardian, gaining a direct association with this tangible conservation work in Aberdeenshire, Scotland. It is also an ideal opportunity for your colleagues and staff to join team-building volunteer days, delivering vital work to help nature and their communities.

CHOOSING THE PERFECT Wedding COLOUR SCHEME

Selecting a colour scheme for your wedding is an important decision and should be made early in the planning process.

When selecting a colour scheme, think about the style of your wedding venue, the time of year your wedding will be held, and the setting for your wedding.

It is important to choose your colours carefully, as they will be used to decorate your venue. Your colours will also play a vital role in styling your bridesmaids, your groom, cake, stationery, flowers and more.
