Service Delivery

SNG is the first Green Cleaning Certified company in the UAE.

The cleaning industry's most popular trend right now is green cleaning. The corporate greening plan must be evaluated to accomplish this. To increase sustainability in the cleaning sector, resource consumption must be decreased during a product's life cycle. The customer's desire for more green and environmental-friendly products is causing a significant shift in the sustainable cleaning sector. People, the environment, and businesses all benefit from sustainability. According to the global warming standards, net emissions of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases must be reduced by 50% by 2030 to reach Net Zero (zero net emissions by 2050).

Sustainability is a major driver of economies all over the world, which is consistent with the UAE's mission.
